EDITORIAL

Tomorrow almost fifty of our finest will depart from this District and hundreds of people will again line the streets to wave them a fond and hearty "so long." We are sending these men away to train them for the business of soldiering with all the hard work and hazards that occupation carries with it. It is one more reason for buying of Liberty Bonds by those of us who will see them off at the depot tomorrow. The Liberty Bonds are being sold to furnish money to Uncle Sam to support those men in the uniform. While you are supporting them by buying a bond you are adopting a method of saving that will be of great benefit in the future. There is absolutely no excuse for any one having loose cash today which is not bringing in interest return. When you buy a Liberty Bond for $50 or any larger amount you are buying something that you can turn around and sell any day you desire and get your money out of it.

YOUR OLD CLOTHES "ROOF" THE SOLDIERS

Did you ever imagine that the old suit you discarded may go into a roof over your husband's, or brother's, or son's head in one of Uncle Sam's cantonments where the new soldiers are in training?

The high-grade asphalt roofing which our Government experts have chosen to roof the sixteen big cantonments is what manufacturers call a "by-product" roofing. Its base is a thick, soft felt made of old rags, and these rags come from tons and tons of our last winter's clothing that have been collected and made into roofing felt. This information will surprise many people, who may still have in mind the old-time "paper roofing" or "tar paper," or the later so-called "rubber" roofing; but these are largely bygones. The modern roll roofing is made of soft, pliable felt which is saturated with several times its own weight of blended asphalts. Thus asphalt has become the established economy product for over head and for under wheels, in preference to wood, tar or metal.

A writer in the Saturday Evening Post, Mary Roberts Rinehart, recently mentioned the extreme discomfort experienced by some of the Officers Reserve Corps men under metal roofs in the older cantonments during the summer. The cooler, non-conducting asphalt has brought about much more comfortable conditions in the hot southern camps, and it also keeps the interiors warmer in the extreme cold north where other camps are located.

"By-products" are playing a big part in this war. The Germans have carried the idea farther than any other nation. For fighting purposes they have followed the plan of using "everything but the squeal." Uncle Sam is not far behind them in conservation now, and is learning more right along. In the case of asphalt roofing, for instance, few people realize how far the economy hunt has gone. In addition to the fact that Uncle Sam's buyers and builders found this roof quick and easy to lay, low in maintenance cost, long-lived water-proof and weather-proof, fire-retarant, and other things a good roof should be, it was pointed out that as asphalt roofing can be compact rolls it would save space in freight cars, and that it would conserve lumber, which is needed for shingles especially.

How many households look into the matter as carefully as Uncle Sam does? With him, waste of any small cannot be tolerated, because in the aggregate the leakage of supplies and money would be simply staggering. When you consider the number and size of the cantonments—a small city, each of them, and the millions of square feet of roof needed, the money saved in selecting durable asphalt roofing is important.

Next time you go to visit your soldier at his cantonment, look at the roof and remember that your old clothes may be doing their mite to "protect" him.

SUPREME COURT CONVENES AT WASHINGTON

Will Pass On Constitutionality Of Draft Act And the Federal Child Labor Law

LABOR UNION CASES TO DECIDE

(By United Press)

Washington, Oct. 2—With its docket loaded with highly important cases, the supreme court convened today for its 1917 to term. In line with an old time custom it adjourned after formal business to call on the President.

A decision is expected speedily on the constitutionality of the draft law under which 600 000 men are now in service. Should five justices vote that law invalid, all these young men could return to their homes.

Scarcely less important is the decision on the child labor law. Should this be invalidated, all national efforts to reform child-labor conditions must be abandoned, and the field given over to states, several of which are decidedly unfriendly to such legislation.

There is an understanding that the supreme court will give these matters right-of-way.

Before the court also are some of the most important anti-trust cases in the United States ever to be tried. If all were won, the so-called steel, harvesting, shoe machinery, hollow ware, anthracite, lake towage, coal producers' trusts would be compelled to follow the Standard Oil company into "dissolving."

But there are rumors—nothing so much ratified as a "hunch" or "tip" could come from the court itself, of course—that the court will just naturally fail to reach these cases.

The executive branches of government feel the trust can be most practically dealt with through price fixing and profit-taxing.

Certain officials of the executive departments "hope" the supreme court will let things go at that until after the war is over.

Two cases important to union labor are the attempts of the Triple Glass and Manufacturing company and the Kitchman Coal and Coke company, both of West Virginia to have labor unions declared conspiracies under the state laws.

Methods of Dupont powder interests in alleged strong-arm methods of putting a competitor out of business will be reviewed in the suit of the defunct Buckeye Powder company against them. Triple damages are asked by the latter corporation for the alleged unfair ruination of its business.

Denver, Colo, and Lincoln, Neb will reach final decision in electric fights with respectively their water and gas public utilities.

Whether Illinois railroads may charge 2 4 cents a mile, when the state law sets two cents, is up for settlement.

Several rebating cases are pending. Power of the I C C to investigate where it suspects railroad corruption funds is in question.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Recent reports indicate that the war has had the effect of greatly increasing the attendance of women at colleges of pharmacy in the United States.

Fort Wayne is preparing to entertain the annual convention of the Indiana State Federation of Women Clubs the latter part of the month.

Mrs. Oelrichs, a leader in New York society, is credited with having made $20,000 000 in two years in competition with the cleverest financiers in America.

As their "bit" toward conserving the nation's man supply the coeds of Gustavus Adolphus college have decided to eat cheese in place of meat one day each week.

Mrs. Myrcit C. Greenland has been appointed sales manager of the Columbus (Ind.) Gas Company in place of her husband, who resigned to enter the military service.

The first woman graduate from a law school in the United States was Miss Ada M. Kepley, of Effington, Ill., who was given her diploma by a Chicago institution in 1870.

Viscountess Gort whose husband is a wealthy member of the British peerage, has entered the millinery business in London. Her profits will be given to the Red Cross.

After more than a century of existence as a man's institution, the College of Physicians and Surgeons—the medical school of Columbia University—has opened its doors to women.

The End of Your Corns

Pain Stops at Once—Corn Lifts Off Clean

There is nothing in the world like "Gets-It" for corns. Just apply it according to directions, the pain stops at once and then the corn lifts off as clean as a whistle. No fuss, no bother, no danger. "Gets-It," you know, is safe. Millions have used it, more than all other corn remedies combined, and it never fails.

Don't Waste Time Hobbling" Gets-It" Your Corns

There is no need for you to go thru another day of corn agon. But be sure you get "Gets It." Accept no thing else, for remember, there is positively nothing else as good. "Gets-It" never irritates the live flesh, never makes the toe sore.

You can go about as usual with work or play while Gets It, the magic, does all the work. Then the corn peels right off like banana skin, and leaves the toe as smooth and corn-free as your palm. Never happened before did it? Guess not.

ROBERT J. WALKER DIES AT OSCEOLA

Robert J. Walker, for many years a well known business man of Osceola, died at his home in that place on Sunday morning, September 30, 1917, aged about 75 years. His death was the result of yellow jaundice with which he had been ailing about ten days.

The deceased cames from Bloomsburg to Osceola many years ago and successfuly conducted a planing mill business, in which he was still engaged at the time of his death.

Mr. Walker was a civil war veteran rendering noble service in behalf of his country during the struggle between the north and the south. He was also a member of the Presbyterian church, and a man of sterling qualities, and one of Osceola's most enterprising and most highly esteemed citizens.

Besides his wife he leaves two sons and two daughters, viz. George and Garfield and Mrs. Thomas B. Hazlett all living in the West and Mrs. John Weimer, of Osceola.

Funeral services were held at his late home at 8 o'clock Monday evening, with private interment this morning at 10 o'clock.

SILK MILL NEEDS HELP BADLY

Clearfield, Pa.
September 27th, 1917.

To the Citizens of Clearfield:

The silk mill company needs boys and girls badly. Can't you help in inducing some to go there to work?

It will soon establish a rest and luncheon room. Its work is clean, light and pleasant. Its wages good. Its officers treat employes very well. It must have more workers. Those there now are insufficient in number to warrant the operation of the plant.

If any former employes have complaint I can inquire about them and have faults corrected. Will you not do all you can to help keep this plant open and running full?

Very truly yours,
J. P. O'LAUGHLIN

WANTS A DIVORCE

Anna Dotson, through her attorney Walter Welch, has filed a petition in the prothonotary's office in which she asks for a divorce from her husband, James Dotson. She states that she was married March 12, 1910, and was forced by her husband's cruel and barbarous treatment to leave him on December 6, 1913. Among other charges against the husband is one that he threatened to cut the petitioner's throat and stood over her with an opened razor while making the threat.

Mabel E. Witte has the distinction of being the first woman appointed to teach a law course in Columbia University.

THREE OF SAME FAMILY EASED FROM PAIN

Daughter, Son and Mother, Same Family, Relieved of Three Distinct Ailments

READ WHAT FATHER SAYS

In writing the praises of The Modern Remedy, Mr. Homer Robinson of Hollidaysburg, Pa., says:

"My little girl of five years old was afflicted with a lump on the under part of her jaw, or on the gland in her neck, about the size of a hickory nut.

"It became very hard and would cause the child such intense pain that she could not eat without crying out with agony. For or five applications of 20th CENTURY LINIMENT removed the enlargement and all trouble has now disappeared.

"My son of 12 years had a severe sore throat one night and could scarcely speak. I applied 20th CENTURY LINIMENT to his throat in a thorough manner, wrapped some cloth around his neck and put him to bed. When he awoke in the morning I was surprised and delighted to find his sore throat gone and the boy as well as ever.

"My wife is now using this wonderful remedy on a large goitre with very satisfying results.

"I consider this in truth a Twentieth Century preparation and would not be without it in my home for many times its cost."

News of the Day Culled From Various Sources

2,000 SALOONS ARE FORCED OUT IN NEW YORK STATE

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The number of places in New York state where intoxicants may be sold legally was decreased by more than 2,000 today.

The decrease was brought about by the taking effect of amendments to the state liquor tax laws which provide that there can be only one intoxicant dispensary to every 500 inhabitants in political subdvisions having less than 50,000 population.

Commissioner Sission of the State Excise Commission stated that of the more than 20,000 licenses issued last year, 2,092 could not be renewed because of the new law. The constitutionality of the statue has been questioned in courts in several parts of the state, and a final decision by the Court of Appeals is expected to be sought soon.

GERMAN WOMEN WANT PEACE

Demand Food and Men Folk in Riotous Demonstration at Essen.

London, Oct. 1.—A demonstration against the German Government on Saturday at Essen, the home of the Krupp works, in consequence of the decision of Chancellor Michaelis not to state Germany's peace terms, is reported in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam. Women formed a majority of the demonstrators, says the dispatch, breaking windows of the town hall and shouting demands for more food, for peace and for the return of their men folk. The police and military were called out to quell the riot. Two women were injured and several were arrested. The whole of Essen is reported to be in a state of foment.

OPERATORS ASK INCREASE

Meet Miners Demand If Permitted To Raise Coal Prices

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1.—Central competitive field coal operators, discussing with miners' representatives here a readjustment of wage scale, agreed today to meet in part the miners' demands on condition that the Government increase prices fixed for coal at the mines. Their counter-proposal will be submitted to the miners tomorrow.

Both operators and miners have placed the situation before Dr. H. A. Garfield, the fuel administrator, who is expected to revise coal prices upward so wage increases may be paid. The chief point of difference now between operators and miners is how much of the increase if granted shall be added to wages. The operators declare that unless prices increase more than meets wage advances they cannot operate at a profit.

The miners demand wage increases ranging from 25 per cent. upward. They seek to break a contract made last April under which increases were granted for a year, basing their demands on the contention that miners are engaging in higher priced work elsewhere, thus threatening quantity production.

NEW LIBERAL PARTY PLANNED

Project for Union of Progressive Elements Laid Before Wilson

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1.—Amalgamation of liberal elements of all political parties in a new organization to be planned at a conference of leaders in Chicago, Wednesday, was discussed with President Wilson today by Matthew Hale, a Massachusetts Progressive leader. The President is much interested in the movement, it is understood, and expects to keep in as close touch with the developments as his heavy war duties will permit.

Mr. Wilson was told that a number of Progrssive, Democratic, Socialist, Prohibition, Labor and Agricultural leaders and Single Tax advocates at the Chicago conference will discuss forming an organization to enter the 1920 campaign.

Mr. Hale also conferred today with a number of other officials, including Postmaster General Burleson, Victor Murdock, of the Federal Trade Commission; Carl Vrooman, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture and several Senators and Representatives before leaving for Chicago.

THE SECOND MRS. TANQUERAY

Special at the Globe Theatre Today

Confronted after a few brief years of happy married life by the hero of one of her earlier "adventures," the beautiful wife of a wealthy and respected citizen ends her life in her boudoir. The "hero" in this tragedy is a young army officer invalided home and decorated for bravery, who comes again into her life as the accepted suitor of her step-daughter. This pitiful tale of the futility of a woman to live down her past is skillfully and sympathetically told in "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" the Greater Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature now appearing at the Globe theatre.

OSCEOLA MILLS

Maynard Whitney, George Thomas, and Benj. McGinty, three of our soldir boys who were home on a brief visit to the home folk, have returned to their camps. All look well and think the training they are getting will be of great benefit to them.

In the dath of R. J. Walker which occurred at his home on Saturday night, the community has lost one of its oldest citizens and business men. The deceased was 75 years of age and was the owner of the planing mill which he operated here for many years. Surviving him are his widow and the following children, George, Garfield, and Mrs. T. B. Haslett, all of whom are living in the west; and Mrs. John Weimer of this place. The funeral service was held at his late residence Monday evening, conducted by his pastor, ev. S. T. Lewis. Interment will be made in Umbria Cemetery Tuesday morning. Mr. Walker was a Civil war veteran.

Preparations are being made to give the forty-two drafted men who leave this district a great demonstration on Wednesday afternoon. A parade of the school children, patriotic and fraternal organizations and citicitizens with the music of many bands will be held. The procession will leave the Fireman's Arcade at 1:30 and after a short march will proceed to the Pennsylvania passenger station whre the boys will entrain.

Harry Maffet of Cannonsburg, Pa., spent Sunday with his mother here. He will go with the soldier boys from the western end of the state to Camp Sherman on Wednesday.

The burning out of the chimney at the Post Office building wa the cause of the fire alarm on Monday night. An application from the chemical truck soon extinguished the fire.

JUMP FROM BED IN MORNING AND DRINK HOT WATER

Open sluices of system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter, says authority.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drank each morning before breakfast, keeps us looking and feeling fit.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of peope who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, which will cost but little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

MACCABEES DEDICATE HOME

Port Hurdon, Mich., Oct. 2— The dedication here today of the magnificent new building ,erected as headquarters for the Women's Benefit association of the Maccabees was made the occasion for the most notable celebration in the history of Port Huron. The occasion attracted more than ordinary attention from the fact that the building is said to be the most imposing structure of its kind in the country built and financed by women. The dedication exercises were attended by Governor Sleeper and his staff, together with hundreds of members of the Maccabeese from all sections of the country and representatives of numerous other fraternal organizations. The exercises included a notablye tribute to Miss Bina M. West, who founded the association twenty-five years ago.

LETTER FROM HENRY NASH

Dear Father, Mother, Sisters and all:

I am doing good and like it here. I am a corporal and don't have to do much. What drilling I did with the fire company comes in handy. The army has the same thing only they call them a little different. I have an overcoat and everything complete. I am raising a mustache. Some mustache too.

I am sorry I did not join the army a long time ago, it will probably make a man of me. We get good eating and lots of it. Just as soon as I can get off a week I will go to Cleveland and send my clothes and tools home. Did Maybell get the birds yet. The one was sick and I couldn't send them when I left and the landlady said she would send them for me so let me know at once.

Write often and tell me all news. News is scarce here so close for this time, hoping from you soon. With lots of

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if bladder bothers you

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well known authority because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headache, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus a serious kidney disease.

Sues Fire Insurance Company For $1500

Alleges Philipsburg Agent Agreed To Settle Claim But Failed

A. R. Chase, sq., on behalf of Mrs. Minnie Klimek, of Winburne, entered suit in the Prothonotary's office yesterday against The Safety Mutual Fire Insurance company of Lebanon, Pa., for the sum of $1500, which Mrs. Klimek seeks to recover from the insurance company.

The plaintiff avers that on Sept. 1, 1915, she took out an insurance policy in the defendant company through its agent William Slee, of Philipsburg, on her property at Winburne. She owned a two story frame dwelling house and half the policy was on the house and the remainder on the household goods. She paid the necessary charges and when her property was totally destroyed by a fire which occured at 8 o'clock p. m. April 10, 1917, she naturally expected to receive the full amount of her policy.

Proof of loss as filed with agent Slee and he agreed to settle several times, but never did so, and finally a proof of loss and claim for insurance was made to the company direct, but still the amount of the insurance failed to arrive. In order to force the issue and secure her insurance this suit is brought. It will be heard at December term of court.

Corporal Clayton C. Shaw Reports To Local Exemption Board

Local Board District No. 1
Clearfield, Pa.

John M. Bain:

Have about an hour of time now and is the first time since I came that have had any time which I might call my own.

Soon as we landed in camp I had my examination first and soon as was done they put me to work,, clerical work, and even make me work after supper till time to go to bed, that is ten o'clock. Some of the other boys have had some time to themselves but I have not. Soon as the roll call I was detailed for clerical duty of some kind for the captain, that is Captain DeRubie a Frenchman, fine fellow too, who has seen service in the present European war and has come here to train these boys for France.

This is some place. When we left Clearfield some people told us to go to call on some of the boys who came before us, but the people of Clearfield do not think realize just how large this camp is, to find some certain person, without any address is just like going to a city to look for someone and not have any address. It is just the same thing.

Well we all extend our thanks to the Red Cross for those comfort kits and lunch boxes as we had to use them although we had hot coffee and sandwiches at Harrisburg.

Told the boys all to report soon as possible to me just how many kits we were short which was only a couple. Will report the names soon.

We have one of the boys by the name of Moore who said he was not feeling well when we reached Harrisburg and I told him I would leave him there if he would just say he could not make the trip, and would put him in charge of somebody there, but he wanted to stay with the boys and did until yesterday he went to the hospital. I am going to try and get a few minutes this afternoon and get a report on him.

Thanks kindly to the board of District No. 1 for the appointment to me in charge and performed the duty without trouble of any kind. It was the best behaved lot of boys I ever saw. What I told them, they did and all of them volunteered to help in any way they could.

Suffrage Saving Hints To Women of Nation

Declare Silk Stockings a Luxury And Cotton Ones Convenient

(By United Press)

New York, Oct. 2—The New York State Woman's Suffrage Party in an effort to replenish the war-service-deleted coffers of the state organization are urging New York suffragettes to practice the following "hints for saving:"

New gloves cost $2.00 a pair; old ones might be mended up to do.

Silk stockings are a luxury; cotton ones can be worn with no inconvenience whatever.

Last year's velvet hat may be out of shape, but a steaming over the tea kettle will perform mircles with its nap.

Last year's dress may be shiny, but a bit of sponging with vinegar and water will make it perfectly presentable.

Ice cream soda is fattening, and it's ten cents cost may be diverted to a better use.

The same is true of chocolates.

Any home is better off for one week without deserts.

A two dollar seat in the theatre does not really give its user any more pleasure than a fifty cent seat if the difference between the two dollars and the fifty cents be diverted into the proper channel.

Walking a short distance instead of taking the street car is good for the health as well as the conscience.

ALLIED AIRMEN ATTACK GERMAN TOWNS

Repeated Raids on London and Other British Cities Brings Reprisal From French

Forecasts Allies Fighting With Same--Measures Used By Germany Against Defenseless Women and Children

OFFICIAL WAR STATEMENT OF TODAY

Paris, October 2—In reprisal for recent German air raids on Dunkirk, French airmen last night bombarded Stuttgart, Treves, Coblenz and Frankfurt, an official statement declared today.

The German air raid on Dunkirk claimed "numerous civilian victims" according to an official statement and did serious damage to the city The German airmen were in hordes.

Stuttgart, Treves, Coblenz and Frankfurt are all in the general direction from France and are approximately 65, 120, 160 and 180 miles distant from the French fighting line. All are old cities rich with architecture and have historical value.

Ten Killed Last Night

London Oct. 2—Ten killed and thirty-nine injured was the total dead and maimed left by the German air raiders in their raid over London at eight o'clock last night the official statement announced today. This brings the total killed and wounded by the German "baby killers" since September 24, to 51 killed and 249 wounded.

British Statement

Violent German counter attacks by a great force of specially picked troops against recently gained British possessions along the bloody Ypres sector were repulsed the official statement declared today. The army retreated under the withering fire of British rifles and machine guns. The same desperate counter attacks were made at Zonnebeck but Haig declared the enemy suffered heavy losses. This is significant that a British drive is impending and the Germans apparently scenting this are launching counter attacks so the British cannot mass effectively for the offensive.

Russian Statement

Petrograd, Oct. 2—Russian troops in the Riga sector pushed onward against the Teutons today. "In Riga south of Kronberg and Stilali our vanguard advanced many miles.

French Statement

Paris, Oct. 2—French troops advanced with heavy losses to the enemy around Beaumont. The Germans launched strong attacks but were repulsed the official statement declared. Around Craonne on the right bank of the Meuse the war office reported an artillery duel.

Woman Mayor of Moorhaven Gives Views On Impending Public Questions

Too Busy Working To Talk Much About Woman Suffrage: Not At All Interesting

Moorhaven, Fla., Oct. 2— Mrs. George Horwitz, the mayor of Moorhaven, Florida, the only Mayor of her sex in the United States, when she is not working at being mayor, runs a small farm of 5,000 acres, where she raises nearly every known species of vegetables, and as a side line hogs.

Mrs. Horwitz has worked from four o'clock in the morning until 11 o'clock at night on her farm steadily through the summer season, and is convinced that there isn't a thing a woman cannot do.

She does not look like a woman who has been slaving in the fields all day and managing a small town at the same time. She is blond, pretty and young. "I am more than thirty, however," she said. Being a woman you would think she would be willing to talk about the woman in politics. "That is the last thing I want to talk about," was her surprising answer when the question of woman suffrage was brought up. "Don't ask me what I believe for I know nothing about suffrage. All my life I have been busy doing the things I wanted to do and haven't had time to think much about political enfranchisement."

"Not that suffrage is not coming," she added, "but in my mind the best argument for it is the evidence women are now giving in all sorts of war work. The work that women have done in the war relief agencies and the work they do in the juvenile and municipal courts is proof enough for me that any woman is as good and as capable as any man."

Getting off the question of votes for women Mrs. Horwitz dropped a few hints for the modern farmer. "The old time farmer," she said "don't know when to plant or where. He simply dropped the seed into the same ground season after season. Nowadays anyone can learn to farm by doing as the Department of Agriculture tells you to. I have four large tractors and I work all day long as my men do. And then of course I work at night too. If the government would make possible the development of other waste lands in this country—as these drainage canals have made them available in Florida—the food problem would shrink in proportion."

Mrs. Howitz has been a member of the Governor of Florida's staff with the rank of Major. She is also on the State Committee on National Defence and is preparing to organize a Home defense organization.

"The job of being Mayor is a new one and I like it," she said. I have to hand out justice for petty offences, for I sit as town magistrate in the town, and that with managing the councilmen, is a full job in itself."

When she works in the field Mrs. Horwitz, like all the other farmerettes discards the skirts and takes to trousers.

FEDERAL CHARGE AGAINST I. W. W. ANNOUNCED

On Evidence Had By U. S. District Attorney It Is Expected That 166 Will Be Convicted

HAYWOODS DESK HELD PLOTS

Chicago, Oct. 1.—The Federal Government made public today the exact charges on which it will convict 166 I. W. W. members who were indicted here last week, according to the District Attorney Office.

The charges are: Conspiring to keep the American army in the field through interference with equipment, transportation facilities and construction work at the camps, preventing the manufacturing of ammunition, preventing the harvest of crops thruout the country, interference to stop the enforcement of the conscription law, agitation of strikrs, agitation to destroy munitions and manufacturing plants, and use of the mails to defraud.

Papers found in a big desk belonging to W. D. Haywood, Internatonal Secretary and Treasurer, which was taken in the raid on headquarters here last month, gave most of the information.

GOOD ADVICE

George Frederick Kittleberger, who is at Camp Lee, says the men to leave tomorrow should be sure to take their heavy underwear along as the weather is quite chilly down there these mornings and evenings, and all complain more or less of the cold.

Deutsch and Vare Held As Importers of Thugs

Philadelphia, Oct .2—4:20 p. m.—A direct assertion that the gunmen who terrorized the Fifth Ward of Philadelphia on election day were imported upon order of Common Councilman Isaac Deutch was made by Samuel Maloney testifying at the hearing of Deutsh, Mayor Smith, Police Lieutenant Bennett, Select Councilman Finley and five other policemen on conspiracy charges this afternoon.

Maloney, the Philadelphia manager of the Farrel Detective Agency declared Deutsh asked him to provide eighteen or twenty strong arm men saying State Senator Edwin H. Vare would foot the bill. According to Maloney Deutsh the Fifth Ward leader wanted the gunmen to offset the gang thugs who he said were being imported by James A. Carey candidate and leader of the McNichol faction.

Carey testified that Mayor Smith told him that he (Smith) "would go the limit" against Carey's candidacy for Select Council nomination.

Philadelphia, Oct. 2—From every quarter of the state, political attention today focused on the Philadelphia Municipal court, where the "men higher up" accused of conspiring to import gunmen to "rough house" the Fifth ward on primary election day are to appear for a hearing.

The principal defendants are Mayor Thomas B. Smith, Select Councilman William Finley, lieutenant-general of the Vare faction of the Republican organization, and Police Lieutenant David Bennett, in charge of the Fifth ward.

The conspiracy charges run not merely toward importing gunmen to "rough house" the "Bloody Fifth" but specifically charge conspiracy to have these men commit assault to appear that the hearing promises to have the aspect of a thrill rather than a mere preliminary hearing.

Philadelphia is more wrought up over the Eppley murder than over probably anything else since the Declaration of Independence was signed. The situation is engaging the attention of the entire state because of its possible effect on next spring's gubernatorial primaries. Comparisons of the case with the New York Becker case following the murder of Herman Rosenthal several years ago have been drawn to such an extent that attention has been attracted from all parts of the country.

Toledo, O., women have organized for a campaign against a proposed increase in the price of natural gas in their city.

THIRD LOT OF SOLDIER BOYS ARE ARRIVING

Third Contingent of Forty-two Men Will Dine At The Leonard And Leave at 1.15

WILL HAVE A SPECIAL COACH

Every preparation is being made by the local exemption board for the send-off to be given the forty-two soldiers of liberty who are to be sent to Camp Lee from this district on the 1:15 Pennsylvania train, Wednesday afternoon.

This will be our third contingent and will bring our total already in harness up to one hundred and forty-one. This contingent will bring the number sent from here up to one-hundred and forty-four but Burton W. Soulsby ,of Clearfield, has since been exempted on account of a dependent wife and baby, and is due home any day now, while Charles Wesley Hager, of Clearfield, and Samuel Francis Williams of Curwensville, were returned by reason of failure to pass the physical examination at Camp Lee.

The boys selected for tomorrow's contingent reported at headquarters in the Murray building at 2 o'clock today and will be under the care of the Exemption board until they get aboard the train. Following the issuing of final instructions the men were given their liberty with orders to report again at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. At 11 o'clock tomorrow in company with the Exemption board they will take dinner at the Leonard House and at 12 o'clock will march to the court house where appropriate exercises will be held. The Morrisdale band is expected to furnish the music for the occasion.

The usual program will be carried out at the Court House square. Chairman Woodward of the Clearfield County Committee on Public Safety will preside. The invocation will be delivered by Rev. Mecklem, of the Baptist church, while patriotic addresses will be made by H. B. Powell, President of the County National bank, and Frederick G. Betts, Esq.

Following these exercises the march to the station will be made, eight hundred school children acting as an escort of honor. The school children will precede the soldier boys and open ranks on Bridge street through which the honor men will march onto their train. An extra coach will be attached to the regular 1:15 passenger train.

First Clearfield Physician In France Has Many Interesting Experiences

Dr. W. Scott Piper, First American Army Physician To Minister To London Air Raid Victims

We were privileged to read a couple of letters which Mrs. W. S. Piper received from her husband Dr. W. S. Piper, one of the first American physicians to be sent to France with the U. S. expjeditionary forces, and they certainly make interesting reading. The first letter was dated September 6th and gives Dr. Piper's observations in London and other sections of England where he was resting after his journey across the broad Atlantic.

He recounts some remarkable experiences and brings the war right home to Clearfield by stating that he was one of the three American physicians to attend London air raid victims on the occasion of an air raid on London shortly after he arrived on the other side.

Dr. Piper was the first physician to arrive at the scene of the destruction wrought by the German explosives and was later joined by the two other doctors. One of the victims died while Dr. Piper was giving him saline infusion. The doctor says that if he was privileged to give the full particulars of this air raid it would certainly stir some of the cold ones to more energetic action in this war.

The doctor and his party left England and journeyed into France on September 6th. He says the rail trip through England was very interesting and on every hand was apparent the intense determination of the English to win the war; the intensive farming is showing splendid results and the crops are going to be remarkable, every foot of available space, even right up to the railroad tracks is being cultivated; one also sees the great part the United States must play in this war. He says 'I have only been across the water this short time, but if I had the opportunity to speak I could make some of the slackers see their duty; the sights I have alreadys seen are enough to make the blood of anyone boil and to arouse the most profound admiration for England and her allies.

He expresses his delight with London and says he is crazy to see it in peace times; at night everything is dark, but the theatres, cafes and tea rooms run full time ,although the blinds must be carefully drawn. The bars are open from 6 to 9 and cigarettes cannot be bought after 10 p. m.; women drink and smoke in the public places the same as men, while all the bar tenders are girls.

They landed in France before their distribution and arrangements had been completed but as the wounded were being brought back from the front went right to work in the hospital in the town which they reached, the name of which of course could not be given. The wounded here were from clearing hospitals near-[illegible]nt but all were fresh cases [illegible]ught in in motor ambu-[illegible] girls in special uni-[illegible]broin street car mo-[illegible]er th[illegible] England also [illegible]and conot[illegible]s were [illegible]gers treat[illegible] them [illegible]ith [illegible]sy, as an app[illegible]tion of [illegible]ermination to help.

In the Fr[illegible]h city no men of military age are seen in citizens clothes; all are in the army except those physically disqualified and they have only real physical disqualification here. There are no amusements of any kind and the city is extremely quiet; all one sees is a quiet, determined people.

Dr. Piper had the honor of meeting Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, shortly after his arrival in France.

Letter No. 2 which is dater Sept. 7th, starts out with "Well, this is the life, I wish you could see me now, seated in my tent with the flaps down tight and the wind whistling outside. Am seated on my camy chair and using my trunk as a writing table."

This morning the party was broken up. Dr. Brown, from Illinois; Dr. Moore from Ohio; Dr. Cavanaugh from Cumberland, Mr., and Dr. Piper were assigned to General hospital No. 57. These American doctors are all married and each have two children. Hospital No. 57 is located "somewhere in France" and they were soon at their station. Here they were met by the officers of the hospital, and Dr. Piper describes them as typical English gentleman and the finest and most courteous bunch of men he has met or as could be found on the face of the earth. His commission antedated the others by a couple of weeks and he was accordingly ranked as the superior officer of the party and given the little advantages incident to the rank, as the English adhere strictly to form in the matter of rank or precedence; each were given large commodious tents with board floors and had an orderly assigned them to look after their wants.

After a tour of inspection through out the hospital and grounds [illegible] turned to quarters for dinner and that evening fifty new cases on stretchers arrived from the front. Some of them were wounded as late as 10 o'clock the night previous.

Although they are located far in the rear behind the front line trenches the roar of the guns is plainly heard and the doctor punctuated his letter at this point by tolling off the number of the cannon's shots, being already familiar enough to distinguish the anti-air craft gun and airplane bombs from the heavier pieces.

His tent is lighted by a lantern, but his meals are very good, their allowance for food coming from the English army. Their present appointment is only temporary and they expect to be there but a short time only until they get the run of the English way when they will be reassigned to another form of hospital and take on their methods. It is certainly a great experience and beats training camp stunts three thousand miles away from the big doings and real business of this section. Ambulances are coming and going at all times.

Their orders for the following day called for the first lesson in the "gas school" at 10 o'clock and this was looked forward to as an additional interesting experience and the doctor promised Mrs. Piper a description of this in his next letter.

He said there were about one hundred German wounded at this hospital in a section surrounded by a barbed wire stockade and that the Germans would not believe that there were any Americans over there until the doctors went among them and they had a chance to look them over for themselves.

He says the American people have a great work to perform in this war and a burdensome duty and the quicker all the people awaken to this fact the better it will be for all concerned.

McAdoo Appeals Heard By Great Crowd

Tells Them We Must Give Our All To Help Win The War

Indianapolis, Oct. 2.—W. G. McAdoo, Secretary of th Treasury today called upon the great crowd which heard him in Tomlinson Hall "to give the boys who give their lives the means of defending themselves" in appealing for the support of the second Liberty Loan. "We want to let the boys who are giving their lives in a line of communication 3,000 miles wide our protection. We want them to know that American will back them with her entire resources, and if it is necessary we will give our property the governmen. We must be willing to sacrifice our money for those we know are sacrificing their lives for us."

EDITORIAL

Tomorrow almost fifty of our finest will depart from this District and hundreds of people will again line the streets to wave them a fond and hearty "so long." We are sending these men away to train them for the business of soldiering with all the hard work and hazards that occupation carries with it. It is one more reason for the buying of Liberty Bonds by those of us who will see them at the depot tomorrow. The Liberty Bonds are being sold to furnish money to Uncle Sam to support those men in the uniform. While you are supporting them by buying a bond you are adopting a method of saving that will be of great benefit in the future. There is absolutely no excuse for any one having loose cash today which is not bringing in interest return. When you buy a Liberty Bond for $50 or any larger amount you are buying something that you can turn around and sell any day you desire and get your money out of it.

YOUR OLD CLOTHES "ROOF" THE SOLDIERS

Did you ever imagine that the old suit you discarded may go into a roof over your husband's, or brother's, or son's head in one of Uncle Sam's cantonments where the new soldiers are in training?

The high-grade asphalt roofing which our Government experts have chosen to roof the sixteen big cantonments is what manufacturers call a "by-product" roofing. Its base is a thick, soft felt made of old rags, and these rags come from tons and tons of our last winter's clothing that have been collected and made into roofing felt. This information will surprise many people, who may still have in mind the old-time "paper roofing" or "tar paper," or the later so-called "rubber" roofing; but these are largely bygones. The modern roll roofing is made of soft, pliable felt which is saturated with several times its own weight of blended asphalts. Thus asphalt has become the established economy product for over head and for under wheels, in preference to wood, tar or metal.

A writer in the Saturday Evening Post, Mary Roberts Rinehart, recently mentioned the extreme discomfort experienced by some of the Officers Reserve Corps men under metal roofs in the older cantonments during the summer. The cooler, non-conducting asphalt has brought about much more comfortable conditions in the hot southern camps, and it also keeps the interiors warmer in the extreme cold north where other camps are located.

"By-products" are playing a big part in this war. The Germans have carried the idea farther than any other nation. For fighting purposes they have followed the plan of using "everything but the squeal." Uncle Sam is not far behind them in conservation now, and is learning more right along. In the case of asphalt roofing, for instance, few people realize how far the economy hunt has gone. In addition to the fact that Uncle Sam's buyers and builders found this roof quick and easy to lay, low in maintenance cost, long-lived water-proof and weather-proof, fire-retarant, and other things a good roof should be, it was pointed out that as asphalt roofing can be compact rolls it would save space in freight cars, and that it would conserve lumber, which is needed for shingles especially.

How many households look into the matter as carefully as Uncle Sam does? With him, waste of any small cannot be tolerated, because in the aggregate the leakage of supplies and money would be simply staggering. When you consider the number and size of the cantonments—a small city, each of them, and the millions of square feet of roof needed, the money saved in selecting durable asphalt roofing is important.

Next time you go to visit your soldier at his cantonment, look at the roof and remember that your old clothes may be doing their mite to "protect" him.

SUPREME COURT CONVENES AT WASHINGTON

Will Pass On Constitutionality Of Draft Act And the Federal Child Labor Law

LABOR UNION CASES TO DECIDE

(By United Press)

Washington, Oct. 2—With its docket loaded with highly important cases, the supreme court convened today for its 1917 to term. In line with an old time custom it adjourned after formal business to call on the President.

A decision is expected speedily on the constitutionality of the draft law under which 600 000 men are now in service. Should five justices vote that law invalid, all these young men could return to their homes.

Scarcely less important is the decision on the child labor law. Should this be invalidated, all national efforts to reform child-labor conditions must be abandoned, and the field given over to states, several of which are decidedly unfriendly to such legislation.

There is an understanding that the supreme court will give these matters right-of-way.

Before the court also are some of the most important anti-trust cases in the United States ever to be tried. If all were won, the so-called steel, harvesting, shoe machinery, hollow ware, anthracite, lake towage, coal producers' trusts would be compelled to follow the Standard Oil company into "dissolving."

But there are rumors—nothing so much satisfied as a "hunch" or "tip" could come from the court itself, of course—that the court will just naturally fail to reach these cases.

The executive branches of government feel the trust can be most practically dealt with through price fixing and profit-taxing.

Certain officials of the executive departments "hope" the supreme court will let things go at that until after the war is over.

Two cases important to union labor are the attempts of the Triple Glass and Manufacturing company and the Kitchman Coal and Coke company, both of West Virginia to have labor unions declared conspiracies under the state laws.

Methods of Dupont powder interests in alleged strong-arm methods of putting a competitor out of business will be reviewed in the suit of the defunct Buckeye Powder company against them. Triple damages are asked by the latter corporation for the alleged unfair ruination of its business.

Denver, Colo, and Lincoln, Neb will reach final decision in electric fights with respectively their water and gas public utilities.

Whether Illinois railroads may charge 2 4 cents a mile, when the state law sets two cents, is up for settlement.

Several rebating cases are pending. Power of the I C C to investigate where it suspects railroad corruption funds is in question.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Recent reports indicate that the war has had the effect of greatly increasing the attendance of women at colleges of pharmacy in the United States.

Fort Wayne is preparing to entertain the annual convention of the Indiana State Federation of Women Clubs the latter part of the month.

Mrs. Oelrichs, a leader in New York society, is credited with having made $20,000 000 in two years in competition with the cleverest financiers in America.

As their "bit" toward conserving the nation's man supply the coeds of Gustavus Adolphus college have decided to eat cheese in place of meat one day each week.

Mrs. Myrcit C. Greenland has been appointed sales manager of the Columbus (Ind.) Gas Company in place of her husband, who resigned to enter the military service.

The first woman graduate from a law school in the United States was Miss Ada M. Kepley, of Effington, Ill., who was given her diploma by a Chicago institution in 1870.

Viscountess Gort whose husband, a wealthy member of the British peerage, has entered the millinery business in London. Her profits will be given to the Red Cross.

After more than a century of existence as a man's institution, the College of Physicians and Surgeons—the medical school of Columbia University—has opened its doors to women.

The End of Your Corns

Pain Stops at Once—Corn Lifts Off Clean

There is nothing in the world like "Gets-It" for corns. Just apply it according to directions, the pain stops at once and then the corn lifts off as clean as a whistle. No fuss, no bother, no danger. "Gets-It," you know, is safe. Millions have used it, more than all other corn remedies combined, and it never fails.

Don't Waste Time Hobbling" Gets-It" Your Corns

There is no need for you to go thru another day of corn agon. But be sure you get "Gets It." Accept no thing else, for remember, there is positively nothing else as good. "Gets-It" never irritates the live flesh, never makes the toe sore.

You can go about as usual with work or play while Gets It, the magic, does all the work. Then the corn peels right off like banana skin, and leaves the toe as smooth and corn-free as your palm. Never happened before did it? Guess not.

ROBERT J. WALKER DIES AT OSCEOLA

Robert J. Walker, for many years a well known business man of Osceola, died at his home in that place on Sunday morning, September 30, 1917, aged about 75 years. His death was the result of yellow jaundice with which he had been ailing about ten days.

The deceased cames from Bloomsburg to Osceola many years ago and successfuly conducted a planing mill business, in which he was still engaged at the time of his death.

Mr. Walker was a civil war veteran rendering noble service in behalf of his country during the struggle between the north and the south. He was also a member of the Presbyterian church, and a man of sterling qualities, and one of Osceola's most enterprising and most highly esteemed citizens.

Besides his wife he leaves two sons and two daughters, viz. George and Garfield and Mrs. Thomas B. Hazlett all living in the West and Mrs. John Weimer, of Osceola.

Funeral services were held at his late home at 8 o'clock Monday evening, with private interment this morning at 10 o'clock.

SILK MILL NEEDS HELP BADLY

Clearfield, Pa.
September 27th, 1917.

To the Citizens of Clearfield:

The silk mill company needs boys and girls badly. Can't you help in inducing some to go there to work?

It will soon establish a rest and luncheon room. Its work is clean, light and pleasant. Its wages good. Its officers treat employes very well. It must have more workers. Those there now are insufficient in number to warrant the operation of the plant.

If any former employes have complaint I can inquire about them and have faults corrected. Will you not do all you can to help keep this plant open and running full?

Very truly yours,
J. P. O'LAUGHLIN

WANTS A DIVORCE

Anna Dotson, through her attorney Walter Welch, has filed a petition in the prothonotary's office in which she asks for a divorce from her husband, James Dotson. She states that she was married March 12, 1910, and was forced by her husband's cruel and barbarous treatment to leave him on December 6, 1913. Among other charges against the husband is one that he threatened to cut the petitioner's throat and stood over her with an opened razor while making the threat.

Mabel E. Witte has the distinction of being the first woman appointed to teach a law course in Columbia University.

READ WHAT FATHER SAYS

In writing the praises of The Modern Remedy, Mr. Homer Robinson of Hollidaysburg, Pa., says:

"My little girl of five years old was afflicted with a lump on the under part of her jaw, or on the gland in her neck, about the size of a hickory nut.

"It became very hard and would cause the child such intense pain that she could not eat without crying out with agony. For or five applications of 20th CENTURY LINIMENT removed the enlargement and all trouble has now disappeared.

"My son of 12 years had a severe sore throat one night and could scarcely speak. I applied 20th CENTURY LINIMENT to his throat in a thorough manner, wrapped some cloth around his neck and put him to bed. When he awoke in the morning I was surprised and delighted to find his sore throat gone and the boy as well as ever.

"My wife is now using this wonderful remedy on a large goitre with very satisfying results.

"I consider this in truth a Twentieth Century preparation and would not be without it in my home for many times its cost."

2,000 SALOONS ARE FORCED OUT IN NEW YORK STATE

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The number of places in New York state where intoxicants may be sold legally was decreased by more than 2,000 today.

The decrease was brought about by the taking effect of amendments to the state liquor tax laws which provide that there can be only one intoxicant dispensary to every 500 inhabitants in political subdvisions having less than 50,000 population.

Commissioner Sission of the State Excise Commission stated that of the more than 20,000 licenses issued last year, 2,092 could not be renewed because of the new law. The constitutionality of the statue has been questioned in courts in several parts of the state, and a final decision by the Court of Appeals is expected to be sought soon.

GERMAN WOMEN WANT PEACE

Demand Food and Men Folk in Riotous Demonstration at Essen.

London, Oct. 1.—A demonstration against the German Government on Saturday at Essen, the home of the Krupp works, in consequence of the decision of Chancellor Michaelis not to state Germany's peace terms, is reported in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam. Women formed a majority of the demonstrators, says the dispatch, breaking windows of the town hall and shouting demands for more food, for peace and for the return of their men folk. The police and military were called out to quell the riot. Two women were injured and several were arrested. The whole of Essen is reported to be in a state of foment.

OPERATORS ASK INCREASE

Meet Miners Demand If Permitted To Raise Coal Prices

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1.—Central competitive field coal operators, discussing with miners' representatives here a readjustment of wage scale, agreed today to meet in part the miners' demands on condition that the Government increase prices fixed for coal at the mines. Their counter-proposal will be submitted to the miners tomorrow.

Both operators and miners have placed the situation before Dr. H. A. Garfield, the fuel administrator, who is expected to revise coal prices upward so wage increases may be paid. The chief point of difference now between operators and miners is how much of the increase if granted shall be added to wages. The operators declare that unless prices increase more than meets wage advances they cannot operate at a profit.

The miners demand wage increases ranging from 25 per cent. upward. They seek to break a contract made last April under which increases were granted for a year, basing their demands on the contention that miners are engaging in higher priced work elsewhere, thus threatening quantity production.

NEW LIBERAL PARTY PLANNED

Project for Union of Progressive Elements Laid Before Wilson

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1.—Amalgamation of liberal elements of all political parties in a new organization to be planned at a conference of leaders in Chicago, Wednesday, was discussed with President Wilson today by Matthew Hale, a Massachusetts Progressive leader. The President is much interested in the movement, it is understood, and expects to keep in as close touch with the developments as his heavy war duties will permit.

Mr. Wilson was told that a number of Progrssive, Democratic, Socialist, Prohibition, Labor and Agricultural leaders and Single Tax advocates at the Chicago conference will discuss forming an organization to enter the 1920 campaign.

Mr. Hale also conferred today with a number of other officials, including Postmaster General Burleson, Victor Murdock, of the Federal Trade Commission; Carl Vrooman, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture and several Senators and Representatives before leaving for Chicago.

THE SECOND MRS. TANQUERAY

Special at the Globe Theatre Today

Confronted after a few brief years of happy married life by the hero of one of her earlier "adventures," the beautiful wife of a wealthy and respected citizen ends her life in her boudoir. The "hero" in this tragedy is a young army officer invalided home and decorated for bravery, who comes again into her life as the accepted suitor of her step-daughter. This pitiful tale of the futility of a woman to live down her past is skillfully and sympathetically told in "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" the Greater Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature now appearing at the Globe theatre.

OSCEOLA MILLS

Maynard Whitney, George Thomas, and Benj. McGinty, three of our soldir boys who were home on a brief visit to the home folk, have returned to their camps. All look well and think the training they are getting will be of great benefit to them.

In the dath of R. J. Walker which occurred at his home on Saturday night, the community has lost one of its oldest citizens and business men. The deceased was 75 years of age and was the owner of the planing mill which he operated here for many years. Surviving him are his widow and the following children, George, Garfield, and Mrs. T. B. Haslett, all of whom are living in the west; and Mrs. John Weimer of this place. The funeral service was held at his late residence Monday evening, conducted by his pastor, ev. S. T. Lewis. Interment will be made in Umbria Cemetery Tuesday morning. Mr. Walker was a Civil war veteran.

Preparations are being made to give the forty-two drafted men who leave this district a great demonstration on Wednesday afternoon. A parade of the school children, patriotic and fraternal organizations and citicitizens with the music of many bands will be held. The procession will leave the Fireman's Arcade at 1:30 and after a short march will proceed to the Pennsylvania passenger station whre the boys will entrain.

Harry Maffet of Cannonsburg, Pa., spent Sunday with his mother here. He will go with the soldier boys from the western end of the state to Camp Sherman on Wednesday.

The burning out of the chimney at the Post Office building wa the cause of the fire alarm on Monday night. An application from the chemical truck soon extinguished the fire.

JUMP FROM BED IN MORNING AND DRINK HOT WATER

Open sluices of system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter, says authority.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drank each morning before breakfast, keeps us looking and feeling fit.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of peope who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, which will cost but little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

MACCABEES DEDICATE HOME

Port Hurdon, Mich., Oct. 2— The dedication here today of the magnificent new building ,erected as headquarters for the Women's Benefit association of the Maccabees was made the occasion for the most notable celebration in the history of Port Huron. The occasion attracted more than ordinary attention from the fact that the building is said to be the most imposing structure of its kind in the country built and financed by women. The dedication exercises were attended by Governor Sleeper and his staff, together with hundreds of members of the Maccabeese from all sections of the country and representatives of numerous other fraternal organizations. The exercises included a notablye tribute to Miss Bina M. West, who founded the association twenty-five years ago.

LETTER FROM HENRY NASH

Dear Father, Mother, Sisters and all:

I am doing good and like it here. I am a corporal and don't have to do much. What drilling I did with the fire company comes in handy. The army has the same thing only they call them a little different. I have an overcoat and everything complete. I am raising a mustache. Some mustache too.

I am sorry I did not join the army a long time ago, it will probably make a man of me. We get good eating and lots of it. Just as soon as I can get off a week I will go to Cleveland and send my clothes and tools home. Did Maybell get the birds yet. The one was sick and I couldn't send them when I left and the landlady said she would send them for me so let me know at on

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if bladder bothers you

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well known authority because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headache, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus a serious kidney disease.

Sues Fire Insurance Company For $1500

Alleges Philipsburg Agent Agreed To Settle Claim But Failed

A. R. Chase, sq., on behalf of Mrs. Minnie Klimek, of Winburne, entered suit in the Prothonotary's office yesterday against The Safety Mutual Fire Insurance company of Lebanon, Pa., for the sum of $1500, which Mrs. Klimek seeks to recover from the insurance company.

The plaintiff avers that on Sept. 1, 1915, she took out an insurance policy in the defendant company through its agent William Slee, of Philipsburg, on her property at Winburne. She owned a two story frame dwelling house and half the policy was on the house and the remainder on the household goods. She paid the necessary charges and when her property was totally destroyed by a fire which occured at 8 o'clock p. m. April 10, 1917, she naturally expected to receive the full amount of her policy.

Proof of loss as filed with agent Slee and he agreed to settle several times, but never did so, and finally a proof of loss and claim for insurance was made to the company direct, but still the amount of the insurance failed to arrive. In order to force the issue and secure her insurance this suit is brought. It will be heard at December term of court.

Clearfield Contingent Likes Soldier Life

Corporal Clayton C. Shaw Reports To Local Exemption Board

Local Board District No. 1
Clearfield, Pa.

John M. Bain:

Have about an hour of time now and is the first time since I came that have had any time which I might call my own.

Soon as we landed in camp I had my examination first and soon as was done they put me to work,, clerical work, and even make me work after supper till time to go to bed, that is ten o'clock. Some of the other boys have had some time to themselves but I have not. Soon as the roll call I was detailed for clerical duty of some kind for the captain, that is Captain DeRubie a Frenchman, fine fellow too, who has seen service in the present European war and has come here to train these boys for France.

This is some place. When we left Clearfield some people told us to go to call on some of the boys who came before us, but the people of Clearfield do not think realize just how large this camp is, to find some certain person, without any address is just like going to a city to look for someone and not have any address. It is just the same thing.

Well we all extend our thanks to the Red Cross for those comfort kits and lunch boxes as we had to use them although we had hot coffee and sandwiches at Harrisburg.

Told the boys all to report soon as possible to me just how many kits we were short which was only a couple. Will report the names soon.

We have one of the boys by the name of Moore who said he was not feeling well when we reached Harrisburg and I told him I would leave him there if he would just say he could not make the trip, and would put him in charge of somebody there, but he wanted to stay with the boys and did until yesterday he went to the hospital. I am going to try and get a few minutes this afternoon and get a report on him.

Thanks kindly to the board of District No. 1 for the appointment to me in charge and performed the duty without trouble of any kind. It was the best behaved lot of boys I ever saw. What I told them, they did and all of them volunteered to help in any way they could.

Suffrage Saving Hints To Women of Nation

Declare Silk Stockings a Luxury And Cotton Ones Convenient

(By United Press)

New York, Oct. 2—The New York State Woman's Suffrage Party in an effort to replenish the war-service-deleted coffers of the state organization are urging New York suffragettes to practice the following "hints for saving:"

New gloves cost $2.00 a pair; old ones might be mended up to do.

Silk stockings are a luxury; cotton ones can be worn with no inconvenience whatever.

Last year's velvet hat may be out of shape, but a steaming over the tea kettle will perform mircles with its nap.

Last year's dress may be shiny, but a bit of sponging with vinegar and water will make it perfectly presentable.

Ice cream soda is fattening, and it's ten cents cost may be diverted to a better use.

The same is true of chocolates.

Any home is better off for one week without deserts.

A two dollar seat in the theatre does not really give its user any more pleasure than a fifty cent seat if the difference between the two dollars and the fifty cents be diverted into the proper channel.

Walking a short distance instead of taking the street car is good for the health as well as the conscience.

TWO YOUNG MEN OF DUBOIS GET WEST POINT SCHOLARSHIP
